

Tournament Recaps—Antelope Hills (South) and StoneRidge

Last weekend featured two events, both in Prescott, first at Antelope Hills (South) and then at Stoneridge. The statistical summaries are below. Here are some of the highlights:

- Kyle Voda had a good weekend, winning Flight 4 both days. First he shot 94/net 67 at Antelope Hills and then following it up with 104/77 at StoneRidge.
- So did Steve Hulka, who did the same in the Callaway Flight with 79/70 on Saturday and 80/72 on Sunday.
- Ken Slagle appeared to be playing a different course than everyone else at StoneRidge as his 72 was eight strokes better than his closest competitor.
- Kevin Gadowski started his weekend with an eagle on the par-5 1st hole at Antelope Hills. It was his second straight SGL round with an Eagle and he becomes the first player to accomplish that feat over the last three years.
- That same hole proved to be the easiest on the course that day and the easiest so far this year, playing at just +0.29 strokes over-par.

Next Up: Francisco Grande

This Saturday we head south to Francisco Grande golf course in Casa Grande. If SGL has been there before, it would be prior to the 2006-07 season. The course is an old school layout filled with mature oak trees. And it has an interesting history, as it was essentially built for the San Francisco Giants to enjoy as part of their spring training facilities. Be sure to check out some of the old photos in and around the pro shop.

The website schedule lists an 8:00 shotgun start, but be sure to check the Facebook page or the Golf Genius portal later this week to confirm.

Sign Up Now for Ringers

You may now sign up for Ringers, one of our most popular competition formats in which we play the same course five times. Your Ringers is score is a compilation of your best effort on each of the 18 holes. We compete at both gross and net in four flights, and typically pay out four places in gross and net.

This year's Ringers will be played at Orange Tree in Scottsdale. The dates of the rounds are 11/14, 12/12, 1/9, 3/27 and 4/17. Sign up on the payment page.
